We are frequently requested to give advice and recommendations as to providers of fire risk assessment.

We cannot give individual recommendations but we should recommend that only accredited risk assessors with a recognised fire risk assessment qualification should be used. These assessors can be found on registers held by the accreditation bodies.

There are currently two registration schemes that appear to exert sufficient mechanisms and controls to maintain a list of competent assessors that we can offer for consideration by enquirers. There may well be others with similar standards available and any additional schemes will be added to this list as and when they become apparent. Please inform the Procedures Manager if you know of any such schemes.

All recommendations are given in good faith only and Wiltshire FRS can accept no responsibility for the quality, suitability or professionalism of any service provided by external websites or services. It remains the responsibility of the user to ensure the competence of any risk assessor engaged.
